RAILWAY RECORD.

line been so large as at the present On many of their express trains two ul locomotives are attached to haul earnings which have accrued to the com-panies. In other words, the public have gained $7,678,000 in the reduced price they have to pay for every article transported, while these railroads, for doing the work which a year ago would have netted them $16,000,000 above the earnings of the pre-vious year, have a gain of only $6,000,000 to show for it. It is to these reduced rates as well as to the amount of work done, that the general prosperity of the country is due.

A number of ticket agents of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern and other railroads at Cleveland, Ohio, have been de-prived of their rositions through a very ques-tionable piece of detective work. The tionable piece of detective work. The chances are, that from a kindly impulse alone, the agents committed a technical violation of a rule promnigated years age, and of which they had no knowledge. A Cleveland paper gives the following account of the affair: "Some time age an individual, who seemed to be in the lowest depths of poverty, put in an appearance at the Union depot in this city. He had neither money nor friends, but he had a through ticket over the railroad from Buffalo to St. Long, which he wished to sell. He applied to Mr. George Myers, the depot master, who went to J. A. Fellows, the assistant ticket agent, and these also the depot master, who went to J. A. Fellows, the assistant ticket agent, at d these also brought in A. R. Smith, also an assistant agent at the Using depot, and among them it was agreed to buy the poor fellow's ticket and pay him full price therefor, less the five dellars it would have cost him to come from Buffalo to this city. The impecunious traveler pressed a part of the money upon his generous friends as an acknowledgment of their kindness to him in his distress, which was accepted, and he went away. This transaction, so far as the officials were concerned, was in direct violation of the regulations made by the Union depot board for the protection of emigrants. Yesterday Mr. E. B. Thomas addressed a letter to each of those engaged in it, stating that by order of the required after the date of the notification; that a gentleman whose name was given was quired after the date of the notification; at a gentleman whose name was given was pointed his successor, and requiring all operty in possession of the discharged ofter belonging to the Union passenger depot be turned over to such successor. Of course is impeduation, traveler or emigrant was a steetive in the service of the railroad communies, who decoyed the discharged efficials the representation of the strict rules made for their conduct and government, and they pay their conduct and government, and they pay the penalty of their weakness or benevolence in the loss of their situations, although there appears to be nothing in what they have done that reflects on their character or in-

DRY GOODS. [BY TELEGRAPH.]

GENERAL TRADE. There was some material on the marks

There was some material on the market yesterday; prices were maintained but the demand was not eager. Corn sold at former rates. Bran was unchanged, bringing $12 50. Cornmeal was very quiet without change and with a moderate demand; sales of St. Louis meal to arrive were made at $2 25. Nothing was doing in potato shipping. Hog produce had another "tumble up;" meas pork once more vaulted high. Lard is now strong in the upward race, after long neglect. Eggs were steady, and chickens, from large arrivals, were weak.

Quotations below are for round lots at the landing and the railroad depots, and include neither drayage, storage, nor other expenses outside of the bare freight and charges up to the time of arrival. Jobbing and store sales are at higher rates, as they include drayage, storage and profit of the dealer.

The Swish of the Cowhide.

The Swish of the Cowhide. Towboats and Barges.

St. Louis Times, '24th: "The rotunda of the Laclede hotel was the scene of an exciting and quite an unusual occurrence about ten minutes past eight o'clock last night, the interested parties being two well known steamboat officers. Catain W. J. Keuntz, of the line of steamboats bearing his name, was standing at the effice counter, when he was approached by Captain John W. Carroll, of the Anchor line. Captain Carroll stated that he und ratood that Captain Kountz had imputed to him the authorship of a certain circular which had been printed for and circulated by the Anchor line. Captain Kountz replied by saying that he had so charged, and this led to a brief exchange of hot words, during which Captain Carroll asserted that he had not written the circular, but that it had been prepared by Captains Keiser and Scudder. Captain Kountz expressed some doubt as to the truth of this assertion, when Captain Carroll, who it appears had come prepared for an emergency, drew a cowhide and struck Captain Kountz, following the blow with two or three others in rapid succession. Work on the wharf extension was resumed yesterday, a big force being employed. The earth removed is being dumped on the outside of a flatboat moored alongshore, from whence the current will carry it below a point where it can become a nuisance.

That is a mixed though muscular crowd of emigrants which came down on the Parker yesterday. There are Irish, Germans, Dutch, Swedes, Danes, Norwegians, Portuguese, Italians and possibly other nationalities among them. They go to Arkansas City on the Annie P. Silver this morning. Mr. Coppibh, an agent of the Little Rock, Mussissippi river and Texas road, is in charge of the excursion. Captain C. B. Russell, of the Parker, says they behaved well on the trip down, ker, says they behaved well on the trip down,
